Where the Story Begins

POLKI began as a quiet idea — a desire to carry forward a legacy and shape something meaningful through design and remembrance.

Inspired by a father's love for gemstone jewellery, POLKI is a tribute to craftsmanship, connection, and new beginnings. Though we are at an early stage, each piece reflects care, curiosity, and the belief that beauty lies in thoughtful design — not extravagance alone.

Our collections today are modest, refined, and accessible — crafted from materials such as freshwater pearls, moissanite, and stainless steel, designed to be worn often and treasured over time. Alongside this, our bespoke service offers lab-grown diamonds — created through innovation and sustainability, reflecting the quiet beauty of nature.

We design for those who appreciate subtle presence, quiet confidence, and graceful simplicity.

As we grow, so will our craftsmanship, materials, and vision. Yet the heart of POLKI remains unchanged — to create jewellery with emotion, character, and enduring elegance.

This is only the beginning.
